BOND ELECTION LOST.

And High Point Will Have to Pick Her Fruits Again.

TELEGRAM BUREAU,
HIGH POINT, Jan. 17

W. E. Castor has about recovered from an attack of lagrippe.

Capt. T. J. Redding and daughter, of Carraway were welcome guests of this city yesterday.

We know of several new factories under discussion for High Point and it is more than probable that within a few days they will be launched. At present we are not at liberty to say more. The information will be forthcoming.

Howard B. Sterrett, of Lynchburg, was here here yesterday.

Mr. Overton represented Randleman in this city yesterday.

Two marriages in which High Point people are interested are on docket for this month.

T. C. Hicks represented the capitol of Virginia in this city last night.

Lee Cartland returned last night from a visit to his mother in Greensboro.

At a called meeting of the board of aldermen held in the mayor's office last night the advisability of quarantining against Greensboro on account of smallpox was discussed, but no steps to that effect were taken at this meeting.

The opposing sides have met, the battle has been fought, and with the aid of ninety nine more "issus" soldiers the victory would have been ours. For the second time the bond issue for water works for High Point has been put before the people and yesterday for the second it was defeated. To those who worked so faithfully for the issue, they have nothing to regret but on the other hand should feel encouraged for the large gains since the election last October.

To those who voted against the issue we haven't a word of condemnation, if they were sincere and honest in their convictions. We know that there is a strong sentiment now in favor of granting a franchise to private companies, but with the encouragement received from the large increase in those favoring municipal ownership in the election yesterday. We believe they will act wisely and call another election which can be held in 30 days, if so desired.

Out of 693 qualified registered voters there were only 365 votes cast—248 for and 117 against. As it takes a majority of the registered voters to carry an election like this, 347 would have won the victory for water works. As it was, counting the votes cast, we doubled the vote of the "no issue" side by more than twice, and only lacked 29 votes carrying the issue.

In the election last October 91 voted for and 200 against the issue. So it can be seen by this that the water works question this time won 157 new friends, while the other side lost 83 votes—a net gain of 240 over the first election.

Take courage all you advocates of water works, the sun of advancement shall yet arise in High Point, as it has in other towns in North Carolina.

We are still of the opinion that the majority of the voters of this town favor municipal ownership and that when thoroughly enlightened on the matter will work to this end. We think it advisable to call another election and give them one more chance before granting a franchise to private corporations.

Better be put to a little trouble now and let the town own the system than to give right of way to private parties and then regret long as you live.

A Smallpox Epidemic

Can be checked if proper sanitary precautions are used. The most common way of spreading the contagion is through clothing not properly disinfected. There is great risk in sending your soiled linen to a washerwoman where the laundry work is often done in one common living room, where the family cook, eat and sleep and the children play, and no regard paid to the laws of health.

If you are wise you will patronize the Greensboro Steam Laundry. Everything washed in our establishment is thoroughly disinfected. It is a part of our process. If you do not believe this ask your physician. If you need our services call phone 72 or hail one of our wagons. Our wagons are all painted white.

Greensboro Steam Laundry.

We hope soon to be prepared to do a large amount of family washing.

NO NEW CASES.

All is Quiet as to the Smallpox Situation Here.

Dr. Rierson, the mayor and other officials, have been very busy men since the announcement of smallpox in this city, and everything is well in hand. The tension, if any there was, has entirely relaxed. The people are looking at the matter philosophically, and using their good sense in efforts to stop the disease right where it is, instead of getting scared. Dr. Rierson works easily in the harness and we bespeak for him the hearty cooperation of all citizens.

Those colored people who have influence with the more ignorant and careless class, are requested to lend a hand with the people of their race who do not realize the importance of strict measures.

Keep your heads level, help the authorities, and all will be well.

There are no new cases today.

VICTORY AT TERRIBLE COST

If Victory it is the British are Paying for it Dearly

ALL REPORTS ARE UNOFFICIAL

Long Despatches are Started but the Censor Whacks Them and no Details are Furnished.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Jan. 17—The war office has received news, which has not yet been made public, concerning the battle now raging along twenty-five miles of the Tugela river. There is every indication that the news is favorable to the British cause, but all unofficial reports from the front show that the victory, if such it proves to be, is being bought at a terrible cost of English blood. The Boers are resisting desperately, and the length of the battle's front and heavy firing heard at Frere and Chieveley's Camp make certain that the lists of dead and wounded will be appalling.

The war office has received from Lord Roberts a dispatch dated Cape Town, Jan. 16, evening. On the 15th the Boers made a determined attack on French's advance post held by New Zealand mounted rifles and a detachment of the First Yorkshires. The Boers were repulsed, having twenty killed; their wounded is estimated at not less than fifty. The attack was preceeded by a long-range fire from one gun. Otherwise the situation is unchanged.

Cape Town, Jan. 17—Sir Alfred Milner, governor of Caps Colony, has proclaimed martial law in the districts of Popetown and Phillipstown.

A "SILENT" DESPATCH.

London, Jan 17—The war office today posts the following from General Buller, dated the 16th: "One death from dysentary and one wounded in reconnoissance." Although the despatch was sent yesterday it is silent in regard to the heavy cannonading along the Tugela river on the 15th. On that day firing was reported from both Frere and Peitermaritzburg.

THE CENSOR'S WORK.

Durban, Jan. 17—General Buller has sent a number of long despatches to Roberts, but the censor refuses to permit anything unofficial to be sent except the bare statement that Buller's forces occupied strong positions yesterday. Buller's report is taken to mean that he has met the Boers, and that the British are now well on their way to the relief of Ladysmith.

NOT CORROBORATED.

London, Jan. 17.—Prices advanced on the stock exchange today, where there was a rumor that Ladysmith had been relieved, but there is nothing elsewhere to corroborate the report.

To the Public.

The attention of the public is respectfully called to the following resolution, which was passed unanimously by the board of aldermen at an adjourned meeting held on Monday night, January 15, 1900, at the mayor's office:

"Resolved, That in view of the fact that there are eight cases of smallpox in the city, all of whom are colored people, who have not been vaccinated, the mayor be requested to enforce the compulsory vaccination ordinance, and require all persons not successfully vaccinated within a year to be at once vaccinated."

It is the unanimous opinion of our physicians, as well as the expert who has been here, that vaccination is the only means by which this disease can be controlled, and the fact that not a single person who is confined in the smallpox hospital has ever been vaccinated is indeed a significant circumstance in the support of their opinion. Most of our citizens were successfully vaccinated during last spring, and while those will not be required to be re-vaccinated, still as a matter of prudence it would be manifestly unfair to those who have suffered the discomforts of vaccination to have the health of the community and our business interests jeopardized by a few who positively refuse.

While I sincerely regret that the necessities of the case demand this action, I desire to say that the resolution of the board of aldermen will be strictly enforced as the only way in which to meet an existing condition, and to this end I earnestly urge all good citizens to aid the authorities in every way, both by precept and example, in carrying it out, and to hand the chief of police the names of any persons whom they know who refuse to be vaccinated on or before Friday, the 19th day of January, 1900. Any one who is too poor to pay the fee of a physician for this work will, on application be vaccinated by the city free of charge.

With this cooperation on the part of our citizens, I believe it will be a comparatively easy matter to crush out this disease without its doing us any further injury.

Respectfully,
Z. V. TAYLOR, Mayor.

Proceeding Satisfactorily.

MONEY WILL SPEAK.

The Mississippi Senator on Pritchard's Resolution.

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, D. C. Jan. 17—Senator Pritchard, who was to have opened his campaign in opposition to the proposed constitutional amendment at Rockingham, Richmond county, North Carolina, was disappointed in his inability to do so. It is announced by good authority that the senator will go to Rockingham as soon as he can do so.

Senator Money, of Mississippi, gave notice in the senate the other day that at an early date he would address the senate on Senator Pritchard's resolution declaring that the election laws of Mississippi and other southern states are unconstitutional. The senator will, of course, take the floor in opposition to this resolution. As stated the other day, the resolution affects Mississippi, South Carolina and Louisiana, although it is aimed presumably to defeat the pending amendment in North Carolina next August. It is thought by many if the senate should adopt the Pritchard resolution that its might result in an attempt being made to unseat the senators from the states mentioned, and members of the house of representatives who might be elected under the terms of the amendment. The impression is, however, that the resolution is offered merely for political purposes.

Senator Money was rose the other day and he stated that he would deliver his speech at an early day. He stated that in his opinion the Pritchard resolution is very far reaching, and that it is a most important one to the people of the southern states, where the negro vote is a source of constant menace. He believes that if it is adopted by the senate that it will be a blow to republican form of government in the southern states. It was announced Monday that Senators Tillman and McLaurin, and probably Senator Caffery, of Louisiana, would speak also on the resolution.

The contested election cases, of interest to Virginia and North Carolina, it is thought may be settled by the committees very soon. The impression is that in the case of Wise against Young, that the committee will decide in favor of the sitting member, but there is really nothing to substantiate this impression other than the testimony in the case, which was very weak on the part of the contestant. In the case of Pearson against Crawford, and of Dockery against Bellamy, both North Carolina contests, and of General Walker against Judge Epes, of the Ninth Virginia district, the belief is that the committee will decide in favor of the contestants, and that the sitting members will be unseated. The first case, it is thought to be taken up in the house will be case of Wise against Young. This will probably be followed by Pearson against Crawford; and then the case of Dockery against Bellamy may be taken up.

Senator Martin, Virginia, has gone to Richmond, accompanied by Mrs. Martin. While at Richmond the senator will address the legislature, accepting formally the re-election to the United States senate. He will be away from the national capitol for several days.

The comptroller of currency has approved the application to organize the National Bank, of Woodstock, Virginia.

THE ROBERTS CASE.

Committee Concludes its Work—Report to be Made Saturday.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM

Washington, Jan. 17—The Roberts committee concluded its work today and came to a unanimous finding of fact. The majority report will be signed. Several of the members favor the exclusion of the minority report signed by two members, which favors seating Roberts and then expelling him. The latter are De Armond, democrat, and Littlefield, republican. Democrats Linehan and Mann voted with the majority. The reports will be made to the house next Saturday.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 17, 1900.

One man in Greensboro, who has heretofore been credited with having a reasonable amount o' sense, was heard to remark that the smallpox in this city was caused by the dispensary. We need an asylum for fools as well as a smallpox hospital.

Are more war clouds lowering? The statement is made that Germany is getting angry and that the emperor may take steps to make England respect the rights of neutral powers. Germany wants but little more than a pretext, and the Lion likes to remain the king of the forests and objects seriously to having his tail twisted.

Some people think the smallpox situation in North Carolina is becoming alarming because it scared Senator Pritchard away from his Rockingham appointment. There is no cause for alarm in that, unless it is found in the unusual sight of a republican running from anything filthy; but ordinarily it does not take much to run a republican politician. Keep your seats. There are no fatal symptoms yet.

Blow your loudest bugle and bang the biggest drum! A plan has been suggested by which relief will come The trust must die! The movement for relief, it is expected, soon will start: and the trust, the wicked thing, swiped entirely off the mart. Good-bye, good bye. The Charlotte Observer says:

The plan to kill the trust has at last been found, and all that remains to be done is for some one to start the movement. President Arthur T. Hadley, of Yale, and Colonel William J Bryan, of 16 to 1, have agreed that the promoters of all bad combinations for the restraint of trade should be ostracized by society. That's the stuff! Refuse to wear swallow-tail coats with them, and they will soon come to terms Eureka! Eureka!

The Asheville Citizen's Raleigh letter of the 14th, in speaking of the report of the directors of the State Normal and Industrial College says:

"It is decided by the directors that the central well, the water of which was used in the dining room, is responsible for the typhoid fever epidemic, and that, owing to outrageously bad plumbing, the water of this well was polluted.

Read that paragraph and then read what the directors' report says:

"That a leaking plumbing connection between the water closets and the main sewer under the dining room annex created an unsanitary condition there and may have contributed to the contamination of the well located about 125 feet distant."

Comment is hardly necessary. The directors went full length when they said the leaking plumbing connection "may have contributed to the contamination of the well." It was 125 feet distant through solid earth and rock, and we have yet to find a man who really believes that this was the cause of the contamination of the well water. The trouble has happened. Those in authority have reported. People can do no better than to deal with what is actually embodied and charged in the report. Twisted and garbled reports in such cases to suit individual sentiment, is dirty business, and cannot be too strongly condemned.

"I am indebted to One Minute Cough Cure for my health and life. It cured me of lung trouble following grippe." Thousands owe their lives to this never failing remedy. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, grippe and throat and lung troubles. Its early use prevents consumption. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Howard Gardner.

SOUTH AFRICA SITUATION.

Some of the Causes of British Reverses in Battle.

The highest tribute to the terribly destructive power of the repeating rifle in the hands of cool, determined men, occupying well selected and properly intrenched positions, is to be found in the letters of the correspondents with the British troops in South Africa that have appeared in the English papers. It is not necessary to read between the lines to see the effect of the Mauser fire from the Boer entrenchments on each occasion that the British have attacked was so absolutely and instantaneously crushing and demoralizing that, as at Magersfontein, Stormberg and Colenso, the British troops first staggered before the hail of bullets and then precipitately retired On October 30, the day of the sortie from Ladysmith and the surrender at Nicholson's Nek, Gen. White's right column, it is now known, fell back in the utmost confusion, the three battalions composing it sweeping through their supporting artillery and reaching the British lines around Ladysmith, angry, weary and dispirited. These facts are not to be ignored, and illustrate the necessity of an immediate change of tactics in the attack if it is to keep up the defence.

The descriptions of the staggering effect of the Boer fire redeem in a great measure the character of the British soldiers who suffered from it, for as one reads them it seems difficult to believe that any troops could have withstood it, and especially when delivered from behind such well constructed and protected intrenchments as the Boers had Every one, of course, sees now that the frontal attack is to be avoided wherever practicable, but there may be occasions when no other course is open to a general but to deliver one The great German strategist, Von Moltke, in a treatise written after the Danish war, entitled "On the Influence Which Arms of Precision Will Have Upon Tactics," says:

"A skilful general will often be able to choose defensive positions of a nature so offensive that the enemy will be obliged to attack them."

At the time this was written the needle gun was the most perfect type of small arms known, but the principle still holds good. No doubt the British commanders in South Africa have learned a lesson and we shall not see many more of such frontal attacks as have taught it to them, but there must arise occasions when, to succeed in flanking movements, it will be found necessary to dislodge the enemy from just such positions as Von Moltke contemplated, a skilful general selecting.

The question arises whether in the loss of mutual confidence that seems to prevail in the British forces in South Africa between the men and the leaders, it will be possible to restore the situation without a radical change of plan and tactics and with new men. It is quite clear that conventional ideas and methods will have to be abandoned, and leaders quick to seize opportunities and apply tactics applicable to each occasion that presents itself must be selected. The unfortunate part of it for the British is that their officers have had no school in which to develop new ideas, any one showing a tendency to progress beyond the orthodox accepted system being placed under ban. If, therefore, the British flag is to be hoisted in Pretoria in the near future, the capable men have yet to be discovered, for at present they are not known. In the mean while it is not to be supposed that the Boer commanders, who have displayed the skill of which Von Moltke speaks, will show any diminution of it when the new experimental methods which may be looked for on the side of the British are brought into play against them. The hesitancy that has marked the operations of all the British generals, except Gen. French, since the three decisive checks they sustained, proves how deep has been the effect of them both on the leaders and the rank and file, and the man who can lift the British arms out of the painful situation in which the Dutch farmers, with the Mausers in their hands, have placed them, will merit all the rewards his countrymen have to bestow on him. In the meantime it is easy to understand the anxiety that weighs on the British government and people in view of the uncertainties that confront them.

The only activity reported from the British side are three reconnoissances. One was by a detachment of Canadians and Queenslanders with six guns under Col. Pilcher, from Belmont across the Free State border, in which they destroyed the farm of the Boer commandant at Jacobsdal. Another was made by Gen. Methuen's cavalry for twenty-five miles into the Free State. They found the country clear and saw only some patrolling parties. On report that the Boers had evacuated Stormberg and gone to Colesberg. Gen. Gatacre made a reconnoissance up the railway line, but finding Stormberg still occupied and the Boers refusing to be drawn, he returned to camp.—New York Sun, 16th.

GERMANY GETTING ANGRY.

The Emperor Wants England to Respect the Rights of Neutrals.

Berlin, Jan. 16.—In the Reichstag today the following interpellation, signed by Herr Moller, National Liberal, and all the members of the Reichstag except the social democrats and independents was introduced.

"What steps have the federal governments taken in regard to the seizure of German ships by agents of the British government?"

In view of the excited state of public opinion concerning the seizures, the interpellation will probably be answered. Press comment on the subject continues bitter, some papers advocating reprisals on Great Britain. The Emperor remains convinced that Great Britain would not accept mediation at this stage, and on political and personal grounds he holds aloof from any plan for intervention. It was asserted today, however, by a high authority, that if England much longer delays the satisfaction which Germany demands, the Emperor would participate in a coalition movement to compel her to respect the commercial rights of neutral at sea.

Free of Charge.

Any adult suffering from a cold settled on the breast, bronchitis, throat or lung troubles of any nature, who will call at Grissom & Fordham's, will be presented with a sample bottle of Boschee's German Syrup, free of charge. Only one bottle given to one person, and none to children without order from parents. No throat or lung remedy ever had such a sale as Boschee's German Syrup has all parts of the civilized world. Twenty years ago millions of bottles were given away, and your druggist will tell you its success was marvelous. It is nearly as hot and lung trouble generally endorsed by physicians. Only 75-cent bottle will cure or prove its value. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries.

A Dissatisfied Colonist.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 16.—James Robinson, a negro, was here today on his way home from Liberia to North Carolina. Robinson said the negroes from the south, who were induced to leave their homes, have been basely deceived and robbed of their money by the colonization promoters. Robinson described Liberia as an "accursed country," and said every American negro there is making an effort to get away, but a large majority are penniless. The scheme to colonize southern negroes is declared to be rank robbery.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan 16—The court of appeals, with a full bench sitting this morning, rendered a decision reinstating the injunction in the election contests case. The court, in a lengthy opinion by Judge Hazelrigg, upholds the old democratic board and makes permanent the injunction against the board appointed by Governor Taylor. The court holds that the board composed of Poynz, Fulton and Yonts is the legal board.

WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 28.

I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.

Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles". Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-titted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

The Cashier Kills the Teller.

Columbus, Ga., Jan. 16—Captain J. W. Murphy, cashier of the Third National bank, instantly killed Teller P. T. Shutze this morning and then committed suicide. The bank was filled with customers and the full corps of clerks when the tragedy occurred.

Captain Murphy is a prominent business man, but of recent months has been in ill health and it is believed that he was temporarily insane, as he and Shutze had long been the closes of friends.

The evidence before the coroner's jury this afternoon shows that Murphy, presumably insane, placed the pistol close to the temple of Mr. Shutzer and fired. He then turned and placed it in his own mouth and fired twice, both balls penetrating his brain.

Captain Murphy was formerly assistant state treasurer and one of the best known politicians in the state. Mr. Shutze was a member of the aldermanic board of Columbus. Both men leave families.

A KENTUCKY FEUD.

Three Men Killed in Hotel Lobby at Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 16.—Ex-Congressman David G. Golson shot and Ethelbert Scott, Luther Demaree and Charles Julian, and slightly wounded James Golden in the Capitol Hotel today. The killing was the result of a renewal of a feud between Colson and Scott, which grew up between them while in the army last year. Colson is under arrest,

Scott and Demaree died almost instantly. Julian was thought to be only slightly wounded, but died at 1:55 p. m. from shock and loss of blood, making the third death.

Harry McEweng, of Louisville, also was hit by stray bullets, but not seriously wounded. All but Scott were bystanders and were shot by accident. Colson was shot in the arm but not seriously hurt. After the shooting he went to the residence of Chief of Police Williams near by and gave himself up. Later a warrant was sworn out by Clint Fogg, who wienessed the killing. Fogg says Colson shot first.

The killing occurred in the lobby of the Capitol Hotel, which was densely packed with people who are here attending the trial of the contests before the legislature. Persons who were in the hotel when the tragedy occurred say fully twenty shots were fired. Scott, who was the first killed, was a nephew of ex-Governor Bradley. Demaree was assistant postmaster at Shelbyville and a prominent Republican politician. Julian was one of the wealthiest farmers in this county and belonged to an old Kentucky family. The trouble between Scott and Colson which began in the army last year, resulted in Colson being shot by Scott, and it had been predicted since that one or both would be killed should they meet as they did today.

Colonel Colson is in a highly nervous state resulting from excitement attending the tragedy, and as he has never fully recovered from a stroke of paralysis sustained last year, his friends are greatly concerned over his condition.

Accounts of the killing differ and it is impossible to give details further than while Colson and a party of friends were standing in the southwest corner of the hotel lobby, Scott came in the hotel and when near Colson the firing began. Scott after being shot walked backward toward the stairway, looking to the bar room door, and as he did, Colonel Colson who had followed shooting at every step, fired one or more shots in the prostrate form Demaree, who was killed in the general fusilade was shot twice, one ball piercing the heart and the other either penetrated the heart or went directly under it. Those in the immediate Colson party decline to talk about the affair, and while it is generally understood that several others were engaged in the shooting, no names are given.

The bodies of the dead were removed to undertaking establishments and all of the physicians in the city were summoned to attend the wounded.

Hundreds of people flocked to the scene of the shooting and watched the tragic scenes following the removal of the remains of the dead from the hotel.

The most profound sorrow exists over the accidental killing of Damaree and Julian and the feeling against Colson among their friends is exceedingly bitter.

Examination of Scott's body shows that he was shot at least six times. The fact that a part of the bullets were of 38 and part of 44 calibre indicates that he was shot by somebody besides Colson, or that Colson had two revolvers. Witnesses to the killing say that Demaree was directly between Scott and Colson when the shooting began and that he was killed by the first shot fired. Colson lives at Middlesboro and represented the eleventh district in congress for two years Scott was a young lawyer living at Mt. Sterling and was a lieutenant in Colonel Colson's regiment in the Spanish war. When the killing occurred the city was thrown into a state of the greatest excitement, it being supposed at first that it was the result of a clash growing out of the political contests on trail in the legislature.

Captain B. B. Colson, who is thought to be fatally wounded, is a lawyer who lives at Barboursville and was captain of the Kentucky cavalry troop during the Spanish-American war.

Captain Golden made a statement in which he said no words passed between Scott and Colson before the shooting and that Colson fired first. Golden and Colson had had trouble before and Col. Colson's friends charge that Golden was engaged in the shooting today.

WRECKED STEAMER IDENTIFIED.

Little Doubt that It Is the Oil Tank Steamer Heligoland.

St. Johns, N. F. Jan. 16—The light keeper at Cape Pine today picked up a portion of the stern of a ship's boat bearing the name Heligoland, which is the name of a German tank steamer. The find forces the conviction that it is the name of the steamer wrecked in St. Mary's Bay. The keeper believes the boat with the crew succeeded in leaving the ship, and while trying to ride out the gale in the bay, with the hope of making land on its abating, the boat swamped and all on board perished. Attempts were made to reach the wreck today, but the sea is still too rough. The roughness of the sea also prevented the recover of bodies floating in various coves. There is little doubt here that the ill-fated vessel is the Heligoland. The finding of a board today with the notice, "No smoking allowed" also forces the belief that the vessel is an oil tank steamer, as they are the only ships that carry such notices.

"Talk about true friendship," said the man who is just getting over the grip; there's Smith. I've known him for over thirty years, and he's the only person of my acquaintance who never suggested an unfailing remedy."

"There's nothing half so sweet in life as love's young dream."

It was meant to be so when woman was ordained man's helpmeet. But it was never meant that love's dream should have so sad an awaking. It is due chiefly to ignorance that young women are so rudely awakened from the dream of love. They enter on the married state without physical or mental preparation. They are entirely unaware of the great physiological change suggested by the one word "marriage." Every young woman should be prepared for that change. There should be no neglect of irregularities. The perfect health of the peculiarly womanly organs should be the daily care. Thousands of women who entered in marriage unprepared, and passed from irregularities to debilitating drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness, have been altogether and absolutely cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This great medicine is not a cure-all, but a specific for the chronic diseases peculiar to women. It does one thing perfectly; it makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"For two years I had been a sufferer from chronic diseases and female weakness," writes Mrs. Allen A. Bobcon, of 1125 Rodman Street, Philadelphia, Pa. "I had two doctors, who only relieved me for a time. My niece advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I did, and have been highly benefited. I am now a strong woman, and can recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all similarly afflicted."

Sacrificed to Blood Poison.

Those who have never had Blood Poison can not know what a desperate condition it can produce. This terrible disease which the doctors are totally unable to cure, is communicated from one generation to another, inflicting its taint upon countless innocent ones.

Some years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. The little one was unequal to the struggle, and its life was yielded up to the fearful poison. For six long years I suffered untold misery. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and no language can express my feelings of woe during those long years. I had the best medical treatment. Several physicians successively treated me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potash seemed to add fuel to the awful flame which was devouring me. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try Swift's Specific. We got two bottles, and I felt hope again revive in my breast—hope for health and happiness again. I improved from the start, and a complete and perfect cure was the result. S. S. S. is the only blood remedy which reaches desperate cases.

MRS. T. W. LEE, Montgomery, Ala.

Hayden, Wheeler & Schwend, architects, were successful in the competitive contest on plans for a forty thousand dollar Methodist church in Lynchburg. The contest closed yesterday and these gentlemen won the first prize and secured the job. A Cincinnati firm got second prize and a Lynchburg man got third.

The co-operation of all colored people who appreciate the importance of preventing the spread of smallpox, is expected by the authorities in carrying out the work they now have in hand. The average colored man thinks nothing about protecting other people, when he will not protect himself, and those who think and have influence, should exert themselves in this matter.

The "Cyclone.

The Broadway Comedians held the boards at the Academy of Music last night, and were greeted by little more than half a house. The farce comedy "Cyclone" was presented, but from the program put on we are led to believe that the cyclone had deserted them, taking with it most of the show.

New Cotton Mill.

It is reported that efforts are being made to get up stock for a new cotton mill here. It is such industries as these that Greensboro needs. Manufacturing enterprises in successful operation are the bone and sinew of a community's growth. Cotton mills throughout the south have been making, with but few exceptions, from 6 to 40 per cent in the last two years.

They Are the Best.

It is a remark frequently heard that Greensboro has the best clothing store in the state. They are good. They are live advertisers. Believe in printers' ink and other means of advertising. W. H Matthews & Co for instance, are now offering (and giving) a watch every five dollars worth or more of clothing, overcoats excepted, purchased at their store. The watch is not a toy, but a time-keeper.

If its infant's or small children's shoes you want to buy don't forget that we make a specialty of this line We have a very complete assortment of sizes now in both laced and button shoes, in cheap, medium and fine quality. Thacker & Brockmann.
